LP format features bonus track: "Sirens II," from upcoming Bilal album.

In less than a year's time, Adrian Young's Linear Labs imprint has made a very firm impression on fans of forward-thinking, analog-based music from multiple genres. One notable fan, among many, is DJ Premier, who produced his late 2014 PRhyme album exclusively using samples drawn from Young's catalog.

To give fans a chance to revel in Young's range and – just as importantly – give followers a sneak-peek at four impressive 2015 albums already slated for release, Young is proud to release the compilation album, Los Angeles.

On Los Angeles, many hip-hop fanatics will impatiently skip forward to the graceful, galloping and appropriately dramatic "Return Of The Savage," from the upcoming Young-helmed 12 Reasons To Die II. The song features Ghostface Killah alongside Raekwon and RZA. But track-skippers will soon head back to the album's opener: the dusky, Baroque soul of "Memories Of War," from the upcoming Something About April II, with vocals by Stereolab's Laetitia Sadier. Also on the upcoming tip: a track from the Adrian Young / Ali Shaheed Muhammad concept album The Midnight Hour, entitled "Feel Alive," with silky vocals by Karolina, alongside longtime Young collaborator Loren Oden.

Other highlights amongst the album's ten tracks include:

- "1969 Organ" – From Adrian Young's first release, 2000's Adrian Young Presents Venice Dawn
- "Panic (Ali Shaheed Muhammad Remix)" – From the 2014 Souls of Mischief / Ali Shaheed Muhammad album, There Is Only Now Remix
- "The Sure Shot Parts 1 & 2" – An instrumental originally rhymed over by the inimitable Ghostface Killah, on 2013's 12 Reasons To Die
- "To Be Your One" – Taken from 2013's Adrian Young Presents The Delfonics
- "Chicago Wind" – From the 2009 album, Original Score To The Motion Picture: Black Dynamite
