The Murderburgers hail from Glasgow, Scotland. Here's what front man/songwriter Fraser Mackay has to say about the record:

"I wrote the 14 songs for the album around February/March this year of 2018, then we recorded it in Edinburgh over the summer before sending it to Matt Allison in Chicago for mixing. It's a positive outcome to a severe mental breakdown on my part and has Alfie the Goldendoodle on the front cover aka my incredible golden boy (not actually my dog but I'd take several bullets for him)."
